AREA FAMILIES ARE TOLD SONS NEAR RELEASE

Kuzmeh, O'Connor Hear Reports From Freed POWs

THEY AWAIT FREEDOM IN COMMUNIST CAMPS

The families of two Pottstown area prisoners of war think their sons are on the threshold of repatriation.

Both Lt. Frank J. Kuzmeh and Capt. Joseph O'Connor have been heard from indirectly.

Kuzmeh's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John G. Kuzmeh, Congo road, near Gilbertsville, were told yesterday that their son had been seen in Kaesong and that he was awaiting freedom.

O'Connor's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas O'Connor, Arch and Cedar streets, Spring City, and his wife, Mrs. Joseph O'Connor, Pottstown RD. 4, heard indirectly the past week that their son was in good health, awaiting repatriation.

The word about Kuzmeh came via a repatriated prisoner of war.

ACCORDING to a story that quoted a repatriated officer, Kuzmeh was among 21 PW's awaiting release.

Kuzmeh's father last night said that he had heard the news and that he and his wife were holding their breaths for more news.

"We're praying that the next word we hear is that he's been released," the father said.

Meanwhile, O'Connor's father reported last night that he had heard about his son through another repatriated prisoner.

"This prisoner, an officer, told a Mrs. Martin in Philadelphia that her captain-husband was awaiting release and that he was in good health," O'Connor reported.

"He also told her to call us and tell us that our boy is there, too, and that he is all right."

Both families, meanwhile, could only wait, but with a stronger hope that everything would come out all right.

Work Is Speeded Up; West End School Job May Be Finished Oct. 1

Although some sources claimed that the project wouldn't be completed until as late as December, the new West End school stands a good chance of being completed by Oct. 1.

Youth Being Tried Emotionally Upset By Girls in Shorts

A Pottstown youth who stood trial yesterday on charges of being a sex offender indicated that many letters printed in The Mercury's "Readers Say" column this Summer have some basis in fact.

An unusually high number of letters have been written this Summer complaining that girls walking around in shorts are indecent and quite often "exciting."

The battle between these writers and the opponents who called these statements "prudish" has been raging, at varying intensities, throughout the Summer.

Yesterday, Lester Houck, 18, 11 Riverside avenue, Kenilworth, appeared in county court, Norristown, on charges of open lewdness and public indecency.

HOUCK, the past May, allegedly made obscene gestures to an 11-year-old girl while sitting in his car. The gestures were repeated on various occasions until Pottstown police set a trap.

Dressed as workmen, Sgt. Thomas Lawler and Motor Patrolman Paul I. Galloway, with the young girl as bait, waited for the young man to repeat his appearance and antics.

He did and the trap snapped shut.

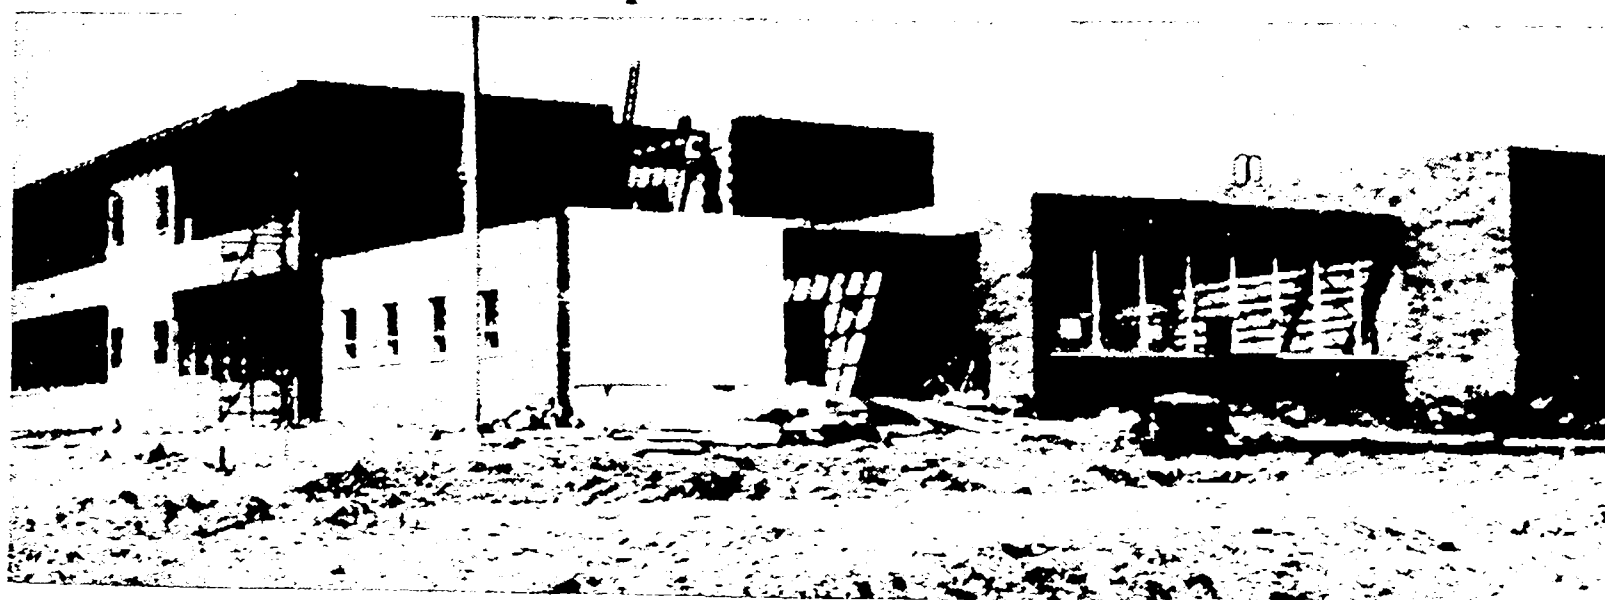

When asked by Judge William Dannehower yesterday why he had committed the actions, he answered:

"I become emotionally disturbed at girls walking around in shorts."

HIS ATTORNEY asked the court for a postponement of sentence until psychiatric examinations and reports could be made.

The judge agreed to the postponement.

Work Is Speeded on West End School

Here's a view of the new West End school where work is progressing rapidly. A school authority spokesman said last night that work is going at such a fast rate that the school may be ready for occupancy by Oct. 1.

Work on the elementary school was held up during the Spring by unfavorable weather conditions. It was at first expected that the school would not have been ready until late this year.

Despite the heat spell of the past few days, workmen at the West End elementary school project haven't slackened their pace on rushing completion of the job.

Here two workmen are processing wood in preparation to covering the supports on the sides and ceilings of the structure.

Program Will Begin Here Monday To Improve High Street Traffic Lights

The attempt to keep High street's traffic lights synchronized so that flashing green and red properly will flow evenly will be started Monday.

Borough Manager Horace B. Gulden said last night that he would contact the three workers responsible for the synchronization and ask them to make the first setting Monday.

The problem of High street's out-of-time lights was taken up at a meeting of the police committee Monday night.

Gulden explained that one way to regulate the lights would be to re-set them each week.

"We could set the lights each Sunday morning," he said yesterday. "They would then be synchronized until the next Friday night when the lights are operated manually by police."

(Once they are operated manually, Gulden said, the police have no way of getting the timing right again. A check must be made all over again.)

Apple Orchard, Junk Pile Destroyed by Flames

4 COMPANIES FIGHT SPECTACULAR BLAZES

Innocent-looking trash fires leaped out of control near Royersford and Perkiomenville yesterday.

Along Second avenue, Royersford RD. 1, flames crackled through an apple orchard.

In the Perkiomenville area a geyser of smoke and sparks hurled skyward and flames spread into piles of wood, old tires and junk.

It was a busy day for four fire companies. In each blaze firemen blamed the extreme dry weather for the wildly spreading flames.

The large wooded area bounded by New street, Vaughan road and Third and Fourth avenues on the Royersford borough line was damaged shortly after 3 o'clock when flames from a trash fire raged out of control.

Humane and Friendship companies, Royersford, prevented damage to three properties on the fringe of the fire as they pumped water through 1000 feet of hose from a Fourth avenue plug.

FIRE STARTED in a clump of trees which had been bulldozed to make way for new homes in the section.

Approximately three acres were damaged by flames. Included in the path of flames was an old apple orchard.

Philip Sweetland, 233 New street, reported, flames shot 30 feet into the air during the crest of the fire.

He asserted, "It was plenty wild for awhile until the firemen got here. They prevented possible damage to several homes."

GREEN LANE and Upper Frederick firemen responded to a call at the junkyard of Wellington Bernhart, 1 1/2 miles out of Perkiomenville on the Pottstown-Perkiomenville road.

Prompt arrival of firemen prevented damage to a home and surrounding buildings.

Two wells were quickly emptied, and then water was rushed to the scene in booster tanks.

A trash fire spread over the dry ground into a junkyard rubbish pile which included old wooden wagons, tires, and assorted scrap.

Firemen were pressed into service at 4:30 p. m. and remained on the job for an hour.

GODFRED FRANK, chief engineer of the Upper Frederick company, reported at 8 p. m., "We're standing by to prevent a new outbreak."

In the Royersford RD. 1 blaze firemen went back to wet down the area early last night.

In charge of the fire-fighting operation at Perkiomenville were Chief Wilson Green, Green Lane, and Thomas Ruffy, Upper Frederick, assistant chief.

Firemen issued a warning against burning trash and grass during the dry weather.

Man Crushed to Death In Bulldozer Accident

NORRISTOWN, Aug. 28 (AP)—A bulldozer slipped from a truck today and crushed to death Leon M. Buzby, 41, of Worcester.

Buzby, a truck driver, was driving the bulldozer aboard a truck when the truck started rolling forward and bulldozer fell off.

The truck kept coasting for about two blocks and was about to hit a house when a passerby jumped in and put on the brakes.

The accident occurred at a housing project in Plymouth Valley.

Alarm Box Outcome Proves Predictable As French Election

South Pottstown's fire alarm box fiasco continues and where and when it will end is about as predictable as a French election.

Probable cause in delay of the alarm box, ordered verbally by Pottstown Fire Chief Richard E. Lindauer several years ago, is reluctance on the part of North Coventry township supervisors to pay for the box.

Lindauer explained the confusing alarm box situation last night.

He said, "I ordered the box several years ago through a salesman. The company that manufactures the equipment wrote back and said they wouldn't ship the box until they knew who was going to pay for it. That's where the snarl began and that's where it's remained."

"We're waiting either for the supervisors to give us the okay to order the box or order it ourselves. When it arrives we'll install it."

"No matter if we order it for them or if they order it themselves it will cost the same price. The last listing I saw was $175."

The alarm box has been one (Continued on Last Page)

Norco Will Pay $700 More for Fire Service

If North Coventry supervisors don't want to foot the bill for a $175 fire alarm box they probably don't have to.

But there's one bill they won't be able to avoid.

Pottstown will charge the township an additional $700 for fire protection in 1954. The next fire protection bill will be $1000. In past years it has been $300.

COOL SPELL OVER

Heat Sets Record, Hits 96; More of the Same Expected

In the third day of a crushing heat wave, temperatures soared to record-breaking heights yesterday when thermometers registered 96 in mid-afternoon.

The torrid mark erased a 1948 figure of 95 for all-time honors.

The heat wave that has been slowing down the pace of Pottstonians for the past three days is almost a carbon-copy duplicate of the heat wave of the past mid-July.

The past month, the mercury hit 90 or better for six straight days with a high of 98 reached on the fourth day.

Today is the fourth day for the current heat stand and with predictions of continued high temperatures made late last night it looks as though the borough is in for a repeat of the July hot spell.

The high today may reach 95, the weatherman said.

YESTERDAY'S mark of 96, in fact, was the highest figure hit since that July wave.

The 90 mark was reached the past Wednesday. Thursday the mercury rose to 94 degrees.

And as the temperature rose each day the humidity increased to make the hot air more oppressive.

Yesterday's temperatures forced hundreds of Pottstonians, the younger set especially, to take to the rivers and ponds for swimming.

On High street, shirt collars were opened and ties loosened as shoppers squinted in the brilliant sun, made fast decisions, and hurried to the comparative coolness of their homes.

But they didn't find much relief there, except in the air-conditioned domiciles.

Sleeping was a problem, with stagnant humid air hanging like a dead fog over the borough.

FINALLY BACK IN CIVIL SERVICE

'Pop' Myers Nabbed at Borough Hall; Burgess Performs Rites After 37 Days

It took 37 days for Burgess William A. Griffith to swear in Herbert S. "Pop" Myers, chairman of Pottstown's Civil Service commission. Myers was sworn in yesterday.

It happened by accident when Myers went to the Recreation commission in borough hall to get baseballs for an oldtimers game (scheduled for tomorrow at Manatawny park with a Linfield team).

When Myers came down the steps from the second floor he bumped into Griffith.

The Burgess seized the opportunity to swear in Myers, who had been re-appointed by council this past July 13, and whose term expired on July 22.

MYERS PREVIOUSLY reported Griffith was "too busy" to perform the ceremony.

When Griffith, standing in the corridor, saw Myers, he said, "You're just the man I want to see. Come on in here," he added, signaling toward his office.

There was no comment during the brief installation. When the ceremony was concluded the Burgess remarked, "Now he sure to tell the press about it."

Myers cryptically replied, "I will."

REDS TO FREE UN General Assembly Approves Plan POWS ACCUSED OF GERM WAR

Chinese Commander Says Sentenced Airmen To Be Released

PANMUNJOM, Saturday, Aug. 28 (AP)—A returned US officer said yesterday the Chinese commander of his prison camp announced the Communists would release all Allied prisoners, including those jailed under "no repatriation" sentences and on "germ warfare" charges.

Returning from captivity today are 145 Americans, 250 South Koreans, 3 Turks and 2 Australians—a total of 400.

Lt. Roy T. Byrd, Winnetka, Ill., said the Chinese commander of prison Camp 2 where he was kept said only a few days ago that the Reds would send back all prisoners including "criminals and men convicted of germ warfare."

Other prisoners have said some prisoners given jail terms would be repatriated, but this was the first indication that the Reds would send them all back, including those accused of waging germ warfare. The Reds have threatened to hold back some.

GERM WARFARE charges were lodged by the Communists against American fliers, some of whom were forced by torture to "confess." Returning Americans have told of Chinese torture even to the death in an attempt to extract germ warfare confessions from captured fliers.

The United Nations command had indignantly denied the Reds' germ warfare charges, terming them propaganda.

The Reds recently announced they had sentenced Allied prisoners to jail for what they termed "crimes against peace" and "hostile attitudes" in captivity. They said the Geneva convention permitted the punishment of these men.

But the US State department said the truce agreement required that all men who wanted to come home be returned. Secretary of State John Foster Dulles hinted that the Allies might hold back some prominent Red prisoners if the Communists failed to return all Allied men.

TIME LAPSE CITED IN CASE BY BROWNELL

Shake-Down Charge By McCarthy Ruled Out

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—Atty. Gen. Brownell said today the lapse of time makes it impossible to do anything about Senator McCarthy's (R-Wis.) charge that some State department employees once "shook down" a friendly Government for $150,000.

Brownell told a news conference the Justice department looked into the matter and found that any Federal action was barred by the statute of limitations. The statute requires that formal charges be brought within three years of the alleged offense.

Brownell said the date given the department was 1947. Having established that the statute of limitations had run out, he said, the Justice department dropped the matter and sent it over to the State department "for any administrative action indicated."

Brownell mentioned the reference of the matter to the State department when a reporter asked whether any government employee alleged to have been involved was still on the pay roll.

BROWNELL SAID: "We did not go into the merits of the charge, and I am not sure whether any individuals were specifically identified in the matter. We handled this as a hypothetical case, proceeding on the assumption that the charges were correct."

"Upon finding Federal action barred by the statute of limitations, there was nothing further for the (Justice) department to do."

The charge of a $150,000 shake-down was made by McCarthy on July 13. He said that employees "in the old Acheson State department" got the money from a friendly Government in return for a legal service which the senator asserted it was entitled to receive "without paying any bribes."

McCarthy declined to name the individuals alleged to have been involved.

In response to a question, the attorney general said a department study of Senator McCarthy's finances, recommended by a Senate committee, is still under way and there is nothing to be reported at this time.

Release of Husband Carries Heartache For 17-Year-Old Wife

SOUTH BEND, Ind., Aug. 28 (AP)—The release from a Korean prison camp this week of Corp. Ralph W. Meier carried a big heartache for his 17-year-old wife, living here with an uncle.

For Mrs. Meier, believing her husband dead, this year was married again, to Herald Kapsch of Mitchell, S. D. but that union was annulled in June at Mitchell when Kapsch said he learned that Meier was still alive.

"I don't know how this will work out and I don't know how I want it to work out," said Mrs. Meier, here at the home of Noel Pixley, a crane operator, and his wife. "I don't know what will be in Ralph's heart and I'm not sure what is in mine."

The girl, to be 18 in October, said she has no plans for meeting Meier. She said she thought she was doing right in marrying Kapsch because "I heard from a boy in Korea the past Fall that my husband was dead."

Kapsch, who initiated the annulment proceedings, said he also was convinced of Meier's death when he married the girl at Luverne, Minn. the past March. He said he learned that Meier actually was alive from a prisoner repatriated in the operation "Little Switch" the past Spring.

"My whole life had taken a new direction and then everything tumbled down and fell on me," said Mrs. Meier. She declined to discuss Kapsch.

33-Year-Old Airman Dies at Spaatz Field

READING, Aug. 28 (AP)—A 33-year-old Air National guard lieutenant was struck fatally this morning at General Spaatz field minutes before he was to begin packing for his return to his home in Pittsburgh.

Lt. Robert C. Zvingli, of the 12th Fighter Wing Air Police Squadron, died of a heart attack while making his bed, according to a field physician. He was to pack immediately afterward for the wing's departure at midnight tonight.

He is survived by his wife and two children. He was a World War II veteran and a self-employed insurance salesman. The body will be shipped to Pittsburgh tomorrow.

70,000 Telephone Employees Are Idled As Strike Spreads; Violence Reported

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—A strike of telephone workers spread from Middle and Southwestern states to the Nation's Capital and to nearby Maryland and West Virginia today, idling a total of about 70,000 employees and bringing reports of violence in some areas.

Latest to join the walkouts resulting from deadlocked contract negotiations between the CIO Communications Workers of America and subsidiaries of the American Telephone and Telegraph company were approximately 10,000 employees in Washington, Maryland and West Virginia.

They formed picket lines early this morning, but telephone service was reported virtually normal, with supervisory employees helping to man the switchboards and perform other duties.

In Indianapolis, a superior court judge banned all picketing of telephone exchanges pending a hearing on charges that strikers had resorted to violence.

The ban, effective in Indianapolis and Marion county, followed a mass CIO demonstration last night during which 15 persons were arrested and two others were injured. The union said it would fight the order.

One Killed, 12 Hurt As 'Teen-Age Gangs Stage Fight in Field

KING CITY, Calif., Aug. 28 (AP)—Rival teen-age gangs, inflamed by grudges between longtime residents and recently arrived Mexican farm workers, battled viciously in a stubble field here last night, killing one lad and wounding a dozen.

Slain in the fight with baseball bats, pick handles, chains and knives was a 17-year-old high school football player. Two were wounded seriously. Fourteen boys were jailed on suspicion of manslaughter.

Monterey county Sheriff Capt. Bill Crocker said 11 carload of youths from King City, Soledad, San Ardo and a half-dozen farm communities in the surrounding area, were involved. It climaxed a period of increasingly bitter feelings between non-Latin boys and new arrivals of Mexican descent.

Two rival gangs had agreed Monday to meet near here and the rivalry was intensified yesterday when drivers from each group were involved in a minor traffic collision and argument in King City.

ALTHOUGH SOME 50 boys gathered at the fight scene, deputies said apparently not more than 30 actually participated in the fight.

According to the stories given officers by witnesses, both sides agreed to "fight clean" with fists and feet only—when the fracas began. Once battle was joined, however, the participants began picking up rocks, pick handles, lengths of motor cycle chain and other weapons.

The battle ended suddenly when Max Montebello, 17, Greenfield, slumped to the ground dead of a knife wound to the heart. He was the son of a farmer and a tackle on the King City High school football squad.

Meier Chief Resigns On Plugging Charge

DAYTON, Ohio, Aug. 28 (AP)—The supervisor of Dayton's parking meter bureau quit today rather than face charges of plugging meters so he could park his own car free.

Finance Director Earl E. Hagerman reported the resignation of Howard L. Johnson, 47, from his $86.40 a week job and said it was the second time the supervisor had been similarly involved.

Johnson was suspended for 17 days and lost a week's vacation the past October on a meter plugging charge. Hagerman said.

It costs five cents an hour to park in Dayton's metered zones.

Appearing composed today as she walked in the Middlesex county jailyard with four other women inmates, she was aware that the prosecutor would not seek the death penalty in her case. For the newspapers containing the statement of Dist. Atty. George E. Thompson were made available to her.

But whether or not she will be indicted for murder in the first degree will rest with the grand jury, convening immediately after Labor Day.

EAST GERMANS 'Emergency' Rush Order Prompted BATTLE POLICE WITH FISTS

Violence Flares as Food Parcel Distribution Continues

BERLIN, Aug. 28 (AP)—Desperate East Germans battled Communist police with their fists to get their US food packages home today. Western sources said. Despite Communist interference distribution of parcels has gone well over the three million mark since the relief plan began July 27.

The free jurists committee said Red police reinforcements had to be rushed to suburban Babelsberg when the fist fighting broke out. Police, however, were reluctant to deal with the angry crowd with a heavy hand and finally permitted the package carriers to board trains for their East German home towns.

Meanwhile arrests of anti-Communists charged with encouraging the June 17 riots continued in the restless East zone as a three-pronged purge gained momentum.

Party Boss Walter Ulbricht was reported to believe that only a half-hearted job of rooting out disloyal party functionaries had been done. He demanded more heads should fall, although sporadic party communiques have disclosed already the firing of dozens of local officials.

The unions, too, disclosed in their official newspaper, the Tribune, that they were busy with a complete housecleaning of "underground elements."

Justice Minister Hilde Benjamin was reported dissatisfied with the mildness of some Red courts towards "Fascist enemies." The West Berlin newspaper Der Tag reported she fired 12 prosecutors and 18 judges in the past week. Five additional prosecutors and 13 judges were reported arrested by security police.

Fury Slaying Case Moves Toward Jury, State Sanity Tests

SOMERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 28 (AP)—The strange case of slim Mildred McDonald, quoted by police as admitting she killed the "teen-age sister of the boy friend who 'brushed me off,' today moved toward grand jury action and ultimate sanity tests.

Beyond any possible indictment the grand jury can bring—first or second degree murder, or manslaughter—lies the standard Massachusetts provision for 35 days mental observation.

These tests may answer some of the questions pondered by prosecutor, police and public about what went on in the mind of the 25-year-old State office worker after she pleaded illness the past Monday—and went to the home of Joseph Di Rocco. Di Rocco is the youth who "dated" Mildred McDonald for three years and then, the past April, married another.

The State has formally charged the girl with murdering 14-year-old Marv Di Rocco, shooting her five times with a small pistol, cutting her throat, and setting fire to only partly placed around the body. New York police who arrested Miss McDonald in that city, said she signed a statement that she had carried a pistol since August 19, that she believed the young sister of Di Rocco was taunting her and she became crazed.

BUDGET SUCCESS HINGES ON TAXES

Balancing Job Depends On Congressional Co-operation

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28 (AP)—A balanced budget next year, prime goal of the Eisenhower Administration, was a shore dimly seen today.

That in itself was a turning point. After months of fiscal disappointments, it marked the first time officials could sight even a vague course to their goal.

But authorities conceded the course still was filled with possible jolts, jogs and dark storms. The darkest potential storm was the extent of Congressional co-operation in keeping taxes high enough to pay the way.

This was the situation in the wake of a new, reduced Eisenhower Administration Budget, unveiled yesterday.

The budget forecast a deficit of $3,800,000,000 for this fiscal year, ending next June 30. That was less than half the deficit forecast by former President Truman, but still sizable.

But for next fiscal year, automatic tax cuts written into present laws would reduce revenue about 5½ billion below this year.

That leaves a gap of over nine billion to be bridged before the budget can be balanced next year. It can be bridged by canceling some of the tax cuts, raising new taxes, or cutting spending—or any combination of the three producing nine billion dollars.

James Thurber's Wife Undergoes Eye Operation

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—Mrs. Helen Thurber, wife of Author-Cartoonist James Thurber, today underwent an operation described as "successful" for a detached retina of the left eye.

Thurber, who is nearly totally blind himself, said the operation was performed at the eye institute of the Columbia Presbyterian medical center. He said his wife was resting comfortably and would remain at the hospital about two weeks.

'I Love You' Girl Writes Long Letter

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 (AP)—A Brooklyn girl who limited herself to saying only "I Love You" in 400 letters to her prisoner of war fiance is ready to follow them with a message of greater length.

In store for Corp. William C. Rhatigan, 22, Queens, is a letter 200 yards long that took Theresa MacDonald two months to write.

Miss MacDonald said she sent Rhatigan long letters when he was first captured but found they were not reaching him.

She then started sending the one-line "I Love You" letters, all of which got through Communist censors.

To make up for the short letters, she began writing a long one, including news of friends and relatives, jokes and stories and neighborhood gossip.

It filled 200 yards of adding machine tape four inches wide.

Do You Remember?

Those grand old days when Pottstown and area was in its infancy—Here's another photo that may recapture a few moments of eternity for you, a picture to stir your memory and let you catch a glimpse of the past.

HOME ON FURLOUGH—Pvt. Kenneth Latshaw, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Latshaw, Gilbertsville RD 1, is home on furlough after 16 weeks training at Fort Sill, Okla. He will leave for California on Aug. 31. He has been assigned to an Army field artillery unit.

This is the 33d in a series of articles showing how Pottstown's youth is preparing for the future.

Most young women, in mapping out their future, seem to stick pretty close to the run of the mill careers.

Jobs like teaching, nursing and music are probably the most predominant.

Once in a while some young girl comes up with something just a little bit different from the others.

To explain further, take the case of 17-year-old Joan Seidel, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Seidel, 345 North York street.

Joan is an ambitious young woman who is presently considering the medical secretarial field. She said, "I am not sure what college or school I would like to attend when I'm through with high school, but I am thinking along those lines."

She explained that she is pursuing the academic course at Pottstown High school, where this year she will be a Senior.

"I've been thinking it over," Joan recalled, "and for quite some time I've been thinking about the secretarial job."

"I don't think I would like all of the aspects of a nursing career, so I thought I would take a position which comes pretty close to it."

During the Summer vacation and while school is in session, Joan works part-time at the Marguerite Dress Shoppe, 23 North Hanover street.

And like so many other young women, Joan spends most of the money she earns on herself.

Among her spare-time activities is collecting miniature horses. She said she also likes going to the shore.

At school, Joan is a member of the drill team. She made the trip to Washington this past Spring and is anxiously anticipating next Spring's adventure in the nation's Capitol.

and Mrs. Milburn D. Smith of Canada Lake, N. Y. Her mother, Mrs. L. W. Williams, and sisters, Sarah and Martha, are motoring to Canada Lake to bring her home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bolton and their son, Jimmy, were Francis Deery, Ardley, Mr. and in Birchrunville recently visiting Mrs. Milford Miller, and children, Mrs. Bolton's parents, Mr. and Rickie and Philip, of Pottstown. Swimming home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Herman Biltz and children Paul and Beverly. Mrs. James McDonnell and daughter Patricia, Mr. and Mrs. Walter Klepinger and son Jimmy and Lillian Atkinson.

Mr. and Mrs. D. Sidney Slemmer and Slemmer's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Slemmer, vacationed in Morehead City, N. C. After their return, Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Slemmer went to the Pottstown.

While there, they escaped injury when their car struck a deer. The force of the impact caused the car to leave the road, and damaged hood, fenders and grill.

Mrs. Charles Kristman and her new son, David Paul, have returned home from West Chester hospital.

Concert Will Feature Jaro Megasiuk at Fagleyville Tonight

Jaro Megasiuk, Yugoslavian concert violinist, will be featured in a program tonight at 8 o'clock at the Fellowship Farm house, Senatoga road, Fagleyville.

Megasiuk, who came to this country three years ago, has been highly praised by Eugene Ormandy, conductor of the Philadelphia Symphony orchestra.

For the past three years, Megasiuk has been performing with the Indianapolis Symphony orchestra.

The violinist will also present as part of the program a seven-year-old violin prodigy.

The program will also include the Fellowship house choir under the direction of Mrs. Elaine Brown, recently returned from a European concert tour.

It is estimated there is enough timber in U. S. forests to build a six-room house for every man, woman and child in the nation and have lumber left over.

Damages Are Small In 2-Car Crash Here

Two cars were slightly damaged yesterday morning when they collided at Grant and Walnut streets.

A car operated by Catherine Harris, 719 Lincoln avenue, was traveling west on Walnut street at 8:55 a. m. when it was struck by a car operated by George A. Dawson, Linden apartments.

The right rear door of the Harris car was damaged while a headlight on the Dawson car was broken.

AGREEMENTS SIGNED

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil, Aug. 28 (AP)—Brazil and Peru signed four agreements today for closer economic ties. This was the high point of a State visit by Peruvian President Manuel Odría with President Getulio Vargas here this week.

AFFAIRS MINISTER RESIGNS

LA PAZ, Bolivia, Aug. 28 (AP)—The minister of rural affairs, Nullo Chavez, resigned today and he sent a message to the Bolivian Labor federation blaming Communists for agitation and bloodshed in rural areas.

In the days when Home Run Baker, Christy Mathewson, Ty Cobb, Walter Johnson, Chief Bender and Tris Speaker were chiseling their names in baseball history Pottstown had as much interest in the diamond sport then as today.

There was no Bobby Shantz in the borough then, but there were enough good ball players to give any semi-pro outfit a healthy scrap.

Take the dusty, hard-sliding Sunday school champs of 1912 and you have a team fit to tangle with a 1953 borough outfit.

The Zion's Reformed church team (above) won the Sunday school league playoff that year by defeating the Trinity Reformed entry.

mond Wean, outfield.

Lord, boasting the team's strongest hurling arm, was one of the finest pitchers in Pottstown and Reading in the years just before World War I.

Weidensaul has since retired from his job as machine shop foreman at the Bethlehem Steel company.

Incidentally, do you remember who played in the World Series of 1912? For those with bad memories it was John McGraw's cleat-cutting Giants representing the National League and Boston's not-so-bright Red Sox.

The not-so-bright Sox surprised the gaudy, gummy Giants four games to three.

SATURDAY, AUGUST 29, 1933

Beware of desperate steps! The darkest day, live till tomorrow, will have passed away.—William Courper.

A Wise Decision

A decision that was packed with the wisdom of Solomon was arrived at by Chairman Earl R. Strange and his Pottstown borough police committee the other night. It came on a ticklish subject of traffic hazards on North Franklin street. Here beautiful, aged trees arching the street made driving a hazard, particularly when parked cars restricted the traffic area. Many a truck slammed into the trees, damaging the motor vehicle, and skinning the bark from the hefty trees. Pleasure cars, trying to make a three-lane highway out of the narrow thoroughfare, wrinkled their fenders, damaged their car sides. Motorists were aggravated. Property owners shouted: "Touch not a single bough!" The battle raged, and the motorist paid for damages.

Then The Mercury took up the cudgels and publicized both sides of the story. Chairman Strange was quick to act. This is what his committee decided: "We'll not harm those beautiful shade trees. But we will make them safer for the motorist. We'll ban parking on North Franklin street from High to Beech streets."

This will be hailed by motorist and home owner alike. There may be a little loss in revenue to the borough because one block of the proposed no-parking ban was metered. That was between High and King streets. There may be a little grousing by North Franklin street residents who parked their cars in "outdoor" garages along the street all night long. But there's plenty of parking space on east-west streets. Mr. Strange's decision may save lives, certainly will save many dollars in damage a year. It may permit fire companies to reach their destinations more quickly. The decision to ban parking on the street will meet with favor. It is to be hoped a law outlining the ban will be presented at the September borough council meet.

Preparing for Peace

ONE of these days, we all hope, something resembling peace will come to the world and it will be possible to make really big cuts in our war spending. When that day arrives, we can attain a true and sound prosperity only if the gaps created by the reduction in production and purchasing for war are filled by production and purchasing for other purposes. In other words, the hope is for peace accompanied by an economy geared to keeping supply and demand at a reasonable level. For more than a year a committee headed by Professor Malcolm P. McNair, Lincoln Filene professor of retailing at Harvard university, has been working on a plan whose principal objective is to develop recommendations as to how retail distribution can most effectively help in the necessary readjustments.

Before long, the plan will be completed. It deals with the relation of retailing to a dynamic economy and its contribution to a higher standard of living. Such matters as improved methods and the establishment of successful regional shipping centers are being given expert attention. So are government relations and foreign trade. It is natural that retailing should do this. For if and when we make the vast transition from a war economy to a peace economy, retailing's role will be difficult to exaggerate. Retailing — large and small, chain and independent—is one of our biggest employers. Most of the family's income goes across retail counters. Retailing is the bridge between farm and factory and the home of the consumer. The success of its selling efforts largely decides whether times are good or bad in this country.

Heads Up at Work

A million workers would have to toil more than a year to make up for the time lost in 1932 due to occupational accidents. The time lost last year as a result of work injuries amounted to 230,000,000 man-days. This includes not only time lost by the employees who were injured, but also that lost by those who stopped work to help the injured or out of curiosity. Fifteen thousand workers were killed and 2,000,000 injured in 1932, but last year still was one of the safest years in history for the nation's industries. Be alert! The life you save may be your own!

Dear Sir 'n' Brother:
Wal, I see by the papers where an 18-year-old has refused to get out of bed the past three years. Chronic inertia—the medics say. Sort of Spring fever, the year-and variety! In an English prison, convicts made a radio set so they could hear races they bet on. Probably interested in four types of finishes—win, place, show and out! And say: Commenting on an observation here that casket making must be a discouraging job, a correspondent writes: "Casket making is like politics. Do the best you can and somebody's sure to throw dirt!" Hopin' you air the same, GRAMPAN NED OAKLEY

Water Ban: Loafers Take Limelight

Great Day for Loafers

To the Editor: The only good that might have come out of Burgess Griffith's lawn-sprinkling ban was that it gave a chance to the lazy man to laugh at his industrious neighbor. The drone who never does anything to improve his property, who lets weeds grow wild on his lawn, and only cuts it so he has a shortcut path to his all-night, street-parked automobile, got a big bang out of the water ban. It gave him an excuse for letting his weeds grow. He didn't mind the brown, burnt spots on what he laughingly called his lawn. But what makes me flip my lid is that he slyly watches all his neighbors who try to keep their flowers alive. He whistles meanly to his neighbors: "Who does Doc Smog think he is? Bigger than the law? I caught him watering his zinnias yesterday! And some of the water had to splash on his lawn!" What kind of mental quirk must people like that have? They let their homes become rundown, then put on a hate campaign against the property owner who improves his lot. They ought to transport those loafers to the borough dump. They belong in that surroundings.

They squeal to the "authorities" and start whispering campaigns. Their motto is: "If I can't have it, nobody can." But they won't work for their improvement. Must the industrious person be penalized by such nonsensical proclamations as a Griffith water ban, which just gives comfort to the man without civic pride? I see requested. Pottstown CAMPBOR BALLS

Dogs and Churches

To the Editor: Well, I see "Friendly" ("Bible Used Improperly," Readers Say, Aug. 28) is at it again. How dense can one be? No one has been trying to prove to him that animals have immortality. On the contrary, people who value the teaching of the Bible have striven to prove to "Friendly" that neither does man have immortality. Paul would not have said "put on immortality" if we already had it. I agree with "Friendly" however, on the Bible being a touchy subject. Hence the warning of Jesus to beware of the "Ticklers of the ear." Not dogs' ears chopped off and sold for a price by dog catchers, but human ears that so love to be tickled by promises of immortality and heaven. Small wonder Jesus warned us against these "ticklers of the ear." As for the House of God being turned into an SPCA shelter, it wouldn't be a bad idea. Might squelch some of the sadism in people. As for man taking a back seat and letting the Rin Tin Tins take over—that does not prove a bad idea either, since man made conditions of the world today. They are certainly nothing to boast about.

WASHINGTON
McKay Policy Termed Middle of Road Tactic
By RAY TUCKER
WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—The recently enunciated and overadvertised McKay power policy represents another middle-of-the-road maneuver so typical of many Eisenhower moves in the domestic and foreign fields. It will have no meaning until it is put to the test in actual operation. Although denounced by hip-shooting, New Deal gunners as repudiation of the sacred Roosevelt-Truman program for development of a vast Federally financed system of public power, it does not satisfy private utility advocates inside and outside Congress. Under the vague plans outlined by the Secretary of the Interior, he can—and may—carry out many of his liberal minded predecessor's schemes and dreams. He has already done so.

As a result of Secretary McKay's ambiguous announcements, he will face a fight with bipartisan conservatives on Capitol Hill at the next session. They are far more determined to check governmental expansion in producing and marketing such a basic product as electricity, fearing it may set the precedent for invasion of other realms of private enterprise. POLITICS AND ECONOMICS: The factors behind the Eisenhower-McKay retreat are both political and economic. It is significant that the more recent statements came after the President had attended the Governors' conference at Seattle, and after a McKay tour of the West. Otherwise, there would be no reason for issuing these pronouncements during the August dog-days.

Power and water are live issues in about 30 states, especially in the normally Republican West and in Southern and Southwestern areas which like carried last November. With their life-and-death need for irrigation, the people and politicians of these sections do not care whether public or private interests provide hydroelectricity for their factories and water for their crops and cities. Moreover, they think they have a better chance to obtain these things from Uncle Sam. No private utility wants to take over such essential but unprofitable operations as flood control, irrigation, reclamation, reforestation, improvement of navigation.

UNPOPULAR ACTIONS: As in so many other instances, including price supports for farm crops, reducing taxes and balancing the budget, returning to "sound money," labor-management relations and foreign aid appropriations, Eisenhower has learned that it is extremely difficult—and unpopular—to uproot New Deal Fair Deal reforms. The 57 percent vote for wheat marketing quotas and Federal subsidies was a warning and an answer on that problem. Anyway, as of today, save for vague indications of a preference for local rather than Federal development, Ike has not turned back the clock on power.

McKay withdrew the Truman-Chapman opposition to the Idaho Power company's bid to construct the Hells Canyon project, it is true, and that was hailed as a great victory for the "power trust." But all he did was to terminate unwarranted executive interference with the Federal Power commission, a semi-judicial body created by Congress to decide these questions.

Water Ban: Loafers Take Limelight

May I remind "Friendly" Jesus said "Be in the world, but not of it." That applies also to those "ticklers of the ear" who profess God and yet who are certainly "of" this world. Pottstown RD 2 UNFRIENDLY

To the Editor: I read with amusement Burgess Griffith's definition of cruelty. He didn't think it cruel either some years back when another of his choice dog catchers tied up starving dogs and cats in sacks, then tossed them into his creek to drown. Isn't it true the burgess told a group of SPCA women only a low bred person would apply for the job of dog catcher? Does that mean then the burgess would defend, even he for such a person? Or is that what he learns in his regular Sunday school attendance? He also seems to think it just fine and ducky that his dog catcher poses as a farmer, then aided and abetted by an officer of Chester county promises an owner of a dog her life-long pet is going to end out its days on a great big farm. The farm being the novel on Pottstown's dump. Why does the burgess tell a group of SPCA women only a low-bred person would accept the job of dog catcher then turn right around and fight to the death for a dog catcher? Pottstown RD 2 CONFUSED

The Worry Clinic

By DR. GEORGE W. CRANE
GERALD Alexander is the very ingenious superintendent of schools at Greensburg, Ind. Last Fall he asked 40 of his teachers to take inventory on Monday morning as to how many of their children had attended Sunday school the day before. Then they also inquired how many had attended their Catholic Mass or Protestant services on that Sunday. The following Monday, the teachers made a second analysis, and then Alexander averaged these two. He found that 35.1 percent of the boys and 41.8 percent of the girls had gone to church services. The combined average was 38.5 percent. Incidentally, the corresponding figures for Sunday school were 55.4 percent for boys and 66.3 percent for girls.

THEN ALEXANDER announced to his high schoolers that a memorial electric organ had been offered by the John F. Goddard prize fund, if the students would either maintain an average church attendance of 75 percent for four consecutive Sundays, or at least, 70 percent for five straight Sundays. The student council accepted the challenge and picked the month of November for their contest. Sunday school attendance could not be substituted for church attendance in winning the prize. Remembering that their average church attendance had been 38.5 percent on the preliminary October survey, now notice how this contest zoomed their presence in church.

Nov. 9—63.03 percent.
Nov. 16—72.96 percent.
Nov. 23—71.34 percent.
Nov. 30—71.02 percent.
Dec. 7—80 percent.
So the students won the $2600 Hammond electric organ for their high school by a 5-week average of 72.3 percent, which is marvelous!

"DR. CRANE," said Alexander, "I am a consistent reader of your newspaper column, and fully appreciate its wonderful influence for good. "So I am passing along these data to you. We called the project 'A Challenge to Youth'. "I had also tried the same idea at Crawfordsville and Washington, Ind., schools while located there."

(Always write to Dr. Crane in care of this newspaper, enclosing a long 3c stamped, addressed envelope and a dime to cover typing and printing costs when you send for one of his psychological charts.)

FIGHTING TRIM

By EDITH GWYNN
HOLLYWOOD, Aug. 28 — Lana Turner has flown from London to Rome. Not for a vacation, not for a "date" with Lex Barker, but for a reason that would flip you clear across the street: Thas-sall we can say on the subject today... If Ursula Thiess wants to catch up with Robert Taylor, or vice versa (and each would like nothing better!) one or both will have to do some tall traveling! Looks like Bob will have to remain abroad for many months—even after "Knights of the Round Table" winds up. Mr. T. is then due to head for Egypt where his next, "Valley of the Kings" will be filmed. Eleanor Parker may be his vis-a-vis... MOCAMBO'S Charlie Morrison lifted a heavy tab for the glamorous pre-opening party (over 200 guests) hosted by the Jack Benny's at Mocambo. Vic bows there tonight. Terrific turnout that wined and dined in the white-flower laden cafe included the Tony Martins, George Burns and Gracie Allen, Jane Wyman and Freddie Karger, the Irving Berlin, the Stewart Grangers, the Eddie Cantors, Esther Williams and Ben Gage, Groucho Marx, Cole Porter, Doris Oay, the Danny Thomases, Marie Wilson and Bob Fallon, Phil Silvers, Janet Leigh and Tony Curtis, the Danny Kayes, the Bill Goetzkes. Turned out to be Van Johnson's birthday, along with other "celebrations"—Eve says the temptation to have a candle-lit cake brought to their table was almost too much to resist... Damone's date for the fete was Kathleen Hughes.

GENE NELSON bows into the Coconut Grove tonight with lots of celebs at ringside—including Jane Powell. By mere coincidence, Jane starts warbling at the Grove as soon as Gene finishes his dancing engagement there!... Dore Schary obviously wasn't kidding us when he told us Jane Powell and Howard Keel would co-star in "Sobbin' Women" before pre-scheduled, "Hit the Deck." "Women" goes before cameras next month and includes several lads who did themselves proud in "Take the High Ground." —Schary's pride and joy for 1932. Among them, Rusty Tamblin Steve Forrest — the latter being Dana Andrews' brother... Elsa Schallert is still suffering from "shock." Touring the Hal Hayes house during a party, she visited the built-in bomb-shelter, and there she came upon Polish ace, Lieutenant Jazwinski and Loretta Luez necking like mad! They did stop, bow and say "hello," though!

Pottstown Sketches

"This was at the top of the best seller list, Mrs. Ann Laver, until they deleted pages 72, 106 and 234."

ALL AROUND THE TOWN

Flies 2400 Miles for Sale... Wells Sunk in Borough...

★ RECORD—Chalk up something of a record for Jimmy Moore, Pottstown real estate broker. This energetic salesman just made a 2400-mile airplane trip to close a really deal! He hopped into his plane at the Pottstown airport Wednesday at 9 a.m., flew to Philadelphia, and there took an airliner to Tampa, Fla. This whirlwind was back in Pottstown Thursday at 7 p.m., with all negotiations completed for the sale of a Palm tapper and restaurant. The Palm business, known as "Elmer's Place" was sold by Elmer F. and Elizabeth K. Trolinger to Cabell and Elizabeth Frye, of Ft. Washington. Moore went to Florida to close the deal because the Trolingers are operating a large apartment house at Maderia Beach, outside St. Petersburg, which Trolinger erected himself.

NAMES—The REV. A. BURTIS HALLOCK JR., pastor of First Presbyterian church, is vacationing at Yarmouth, Me. He'll be away from Pottstown from Sept. 1 to Sept. 24... JIM OYSTER, The Hill, '49, is acting as the Antioch college Shakespeare festival, Yellow Springs, Ohio. Oyster was director of dramatics at The Hill and instructor in public speaking there from 1950 to 1952... PVT. LINCOLN L. WOLF, son of MR. AND MRS. HERBERT R. WOLF SR., Pennsburg RD 1, has completed Army basic training at the medical replacement training center, Camp Pickett, Va.

★ ANOTHER PRIZE—Ted MacIntire, Royersford RD, copped another prize this week for his model-plane ability. MacIntire took a second in the free flight class A, senior division at the seventh annual International model plane meet at Detroit. Another contestant from the area was Harry Leopold, Limerick... Four Pottstown Ells rode back to town from the State convention at Harrisburg in the swing and sway of a 1913 putmobile. Pilot of the 40-year-old open flyer was Henry West. Passengers were Donald R. Waters and Mr. and Mrs. Richard Harp. They made the run from Harrisburg to Pottstown in the late night and early morning. The 1913 car participated in the windup parade with the Lodge 814, BPOE drill team.

STILL IN KOREA—Not all the boys are coming back. Many still are undergoing post-truce training there, awaiting the decision of the peace negotiators. Among those training with the 25th Infantry division are CORP. THOMAS BYNDAS, son of MR. AND MRS. ANDREW BYNDAS, Linfield, and CORP. HOMER K. KLINE, son of MRS. GEORGE KLINE, Pennsburg... PFC. PAUL A. CASNER, son of MR. AND MRS. PAUL A. CASNER, Parkerford, who is an Army reservist, is undergoing two weeks training with the 416th military government company at Ft. Meade, Md. He is a clerk-typist. He was graduated from Spring City High school and Pottstown Business school.

★ FORESIGHTED—Tony Veach, the North End lumber magnate, is not taking any chances on Pottstown's perennial water shortages. Building a new, beautiful home on Elmwood drive between Mineral and Master streets, Veach is sinking an artesian well at the same time. He has gone down 80 feet so far, expects he'll have to go another 80 feet before he hits cool, tasty spring water—and no shortages or anti-sprinkling rules!... The trend is for builders of new homes to sink artesian wells, although this is no boost for Pottstown's borough water supply. Many homeowners find a saving in wells, when they consider the cost of water softeners, the cost of buying drinking water, and the inconveniences of low pressure and no-sprinkling rules... Herb Gross, the former hotelman who now resides at Mineral and Grace, has a well supply. If you're out his way, take a look at his lawn. It's emerald green, possibly one of the most beautiful in town, because he has an automatic sprinkler system attached to his well.

YOUR HEALTH

By HERMAN N. BUNDESEN, M.D.
A DOCTOR must often turn detective when he is confronted by a case of contact dermatitis. His clues will come from the appearance of the rash, and the circumstances that have led to the outbreak of this skin disorder.

Contact dermatitis is a skin sensitivity sometimes coming from adhesive tape or contact with a girdle, brassiere, or some other item. It gives a well-demarcated sore.

Other forms of rashes that occur in small straight bands may be due to thin rubber bands, zippers or bracelets. In most cases, solid articles will not cause sensitive rashes in the folds of the skin, while liquids and semi-liquids will affect these areas.

Some common types of allergic rashes that are easy to detect are the large red rash around a man's forehead, due to an allergy to the headband of a hat, a toilet seat rash on the buttocks, or the very common theater seat rash on the calves of a woman's legs.

An allergy to perfume usually is localized behind the ear; one due to hair lacquer is usually found in front of the ear.

Some types of skin sensitivities will occur in certain seasons. This does not mean that the person is sensitive to pollen, but rather that his seasonal habits may vary.

One only wears a bathing cap during the Summer or a football helmet during the Fall, and one handles golf clubs and tennis rackets during the Summer.

The antihistamine drugs are often of great help in clearing up these rashes, and a little care on the part of the individual can then prevent further occurrences.

Zion's Reformed Church Will Rededicate Organ

Special Afternoon Service Is Scheduled In Ceremony Hailing $18,000 Organ

Zion's Reformed church will rededicate its $18,000 rebuilt pipe organ tomorrow afternoon.

The ceremony will take place at a special service in the church at 4 o'clock.

Mrs. J. Ralph Rutter, church organist and choir director, will play the first notes to come from the instrument after it is rededicated.

Officiating at the dedicatory ceremony will be the Rev. Howard A. Kosman, Zion's pastor.

The organ has been made like new in the three months they have worked on it," Mrs. Rutter said this week.

She said that the cost of the rebuilding was about $3000.

"It has been completely electrified," she explained.

"This means that the hard work of forcing the air through the instrument is done by electric power," she said.

"It's still a pipe organ, though," she added. "What most people think of an electric organ is really an electronic organ, which produces the sound electronically."

MRS. RUTTER herself owns an electronic organ. It was used in the church while work was progressing on the pipe organ.

The rebuilt organ, which was installed at Zion's in 1918, has been given a new Mohler console.

Mrs. Rutter's husband, a cabinet-maker, did much of the woodwork on the new console.

The pitch of the organ has been "brought up" during the rebuilding to better the tone, the organist said.

Mrs. Rutter will have been organist at Zion's for 12 years in October.

Six other members of the church also are qualified organists.

They are Mrs. William J. Weiss, Mrs. Howard R. Horrocks, Mrs. Charles L. Stone, Mrs. Daniel L. Marquette, Mary Elizabeth Hospodar and Willis E. Briedeman.

BRIDEGAM and Miss Hospodar, the two youngest of the group, will take part in the dedication service.

Miss Hospodar will play "Hymn of Glory," by Pietro Yon, and "Largo," by Dvorak. She will also sing "My Heart Ever Faithful" by Bach, and "Angus Dei" by Bizez.

Bridgman will play "In This Is Gladness" by Bach, "Prayer and Toccata" by Beethoven, "Will O' the Wisp" by Nevin, and "Toccata for Fifth Symphony," by Widor.

On the organ committee which supervised the renovation of the organ, are Harold S. Scheffey, Mrs. Daniel L. Marquette, Mrs. Lettie Stiles, Clyde E. Roshon, and Leonard A. Huff.

The organ was rebuilt by D. E. Postetter, Reading organ builder. The console was made to order by the Mohler Organ company, Hagerstown, Md.

The pastor, the organist and the organ committee have joined in urging the public to attend the dedicatory service tomorrow.

Zion's church has had its exterior wood and brickwork repainted during this week in time for the dedication.

Work on the organ and the painting are part of a general renovation project at Zion's.

Bible Words to Live by

PHILIPPIANS 4:19 - "And my God shall supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus." (R.S.V.)

The source of supply is God who cares for all our needs. He supplies our needs, not necessarily our wants. Out of the abundance of his riches in glory our spiritual necessities are met. From Christ Jesus by faith we receive salvation from sin! In Christ Jesus we have solace in sorrow, in Christ Jesus we have succor in our stumblings and in Him we have strength for service.

We can choke the supply lines of God by our disobedience or we can keep the channels of grace open by our surrender.

This scripture applies to material needs as well as spiritual blessings. If we meet the conditions of being recipients of his mercies we must put the Kingdom of God first, remembering the words of Jesus "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and his righteousness (right standing with Him) and all these things (referring to food, clothing and shelter) shall be added to you."

Church Group Lauds Labor Union Work

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—The increasing number of American men and women who have exercised their right to organize in labor unions and to bargain collectively with employers through representatives of their own choice are praised by the National Council of Churches in its Labor Sunday message for 1953.

The freedom to organize and to bargain collectively "has been endorsed, and the important social contributions of the labor movement recognized by almost every branch of the Christian Church," the message points out.

The message also praises American men and women in labor unions for being among the first to perceive and oppose the dangers of both fascism and Soviet communism.

"Through the leadership which the American labor movement, together with that of many other important segments of our society, has given to the cause of world freedom, all our freedoms have been more secure," the document declares.

Church Organization Will Sponsor Drive To Recruit Children

NEW YORK, Aug. 28 — Challenged by the fact that 27,000,000 American children and youths are getting little or no church school training, churches throughout the Nation are readying strong Sunday school drives to be launched during Christian Education Week, Sept. 27 to Oct. 4. Theme of the observance will be: "For All Children, Faith in God."

Sponsored by the National Council of Churches in Christ in the USA, with 49 denominations cooperating, the special week will focus attention on these facts:

Of the one million children who get into trouble with the law each year, the vast majority have no record of regular religious instruction.

The number of children under ten years of age has increased 39 percent since 1940, while the general population has increased less than 15 percent.

Prayer for The Week

By RED BARBER
Sports Commentator

O Lord, our heavenly Father, Almighty and everlasting God,

Who hast safely brought us to the beginning of this day;

Defend us in the same with Thy mighty power; and grant that this day we fall into no sin,

Neither run into any kind of danger; but that all our doings, being ordered by Thy governance,

May be righteous in Thy sight; through Jesus Christ our Lord.

National Church Council Praises Labor in Message

NEW YORK, Aug. 28—The increasing numbers of American men and women who have exercised their right to organize in labor unions and to bargain collectively with employers through representatives of their own choice are praised by the National Council of Churches in its Labor Sunday Message for 1953. The freedom to organize and to bargain collectively "has been endorsed, and the important social contributions of the labor movement recognized by almost every branch of the Christian Church," the message points out.

The years ahead offer labor new opportunities for gains, the message declares, but it cautions that labor also faces "enlarged responsibility to join with management, farmers, consumers and groups in working for the common good."

Early Deadline Set For Church Notices

Church notices for Saturday editions of The Mercury should be in The Mercury office by 8 p. m. on Thursday beginning next week.

With a heavy new schedule of Fall activities about to start in the churches, we feel that the earlier deadline will result in better coverage.

The notices will now be sorted and set up in type on Thursday night, leaving the church editor more time on Friday night to consider church stories and features.

Church Here Sates Sunset Service

First Methodist church will hold a sunset service tomorrow night at the home of member C. Douglas Hale, near Harmonyville.

The young adult group of the church is sponsoring the outdoor service. It will be preceded by a picnic supper on the lawn of the Hale property at 5:30 p. m.

Why So Many Decide To BECOME CATHOLICS

Every week... all over the world... thousands of people are received into the Catholic Church as converts.

In some cases, they are prominent, even famous people, and newspapers and magazines will interview them to ask: "Why are you adopting the Catholic Faith?" Usually, however, these converts are just average people and nobody bothers to ask them "Why?"

Yet the reasons which prompt the average person to become a Catholic are tremendously impressive. They are worth the most careful study of all who seek the salvation of their immortal souls, and who search for spiritual truth in a world of confusion.

It isn't easy to become a Catholic. It involves more than a mere declaration of faith and regular attendance at a nearby church. Thorough instruction in Catholic beliefs and obligations comes first, and a firm and fervent conviction must be demonstrated. The Sacraments of Baptism, Confirmation, Penance and Holy Communion must follow. And these are only the beginnings of Catholic life and Catholic obligations.

Nobody would undertake to meet such rigid requirements out of mere curiosity, or as a passing fancy. It may be assumed, therefore, that the average person who is thinking of becoming a Catholic has been moved by some strong reasons to feel this way. Is it merely because he has friends and neighbors who are Catholic... because the Catholic Church spans the earth and dates back to the Apostles... because in the Catholic Church there is unity of creed and worship, authority and a distinctive form of ritual?

Any one of a hundred reasons may be responsible for the initial interest of a Catholic convert. But what is it that prompts so many of them to investigate Catholic beliefs and teachings, and then say to themselves: "This is it?"

The answer comes from the lips of numerous average people who were not originally Catholics but are today. They tell in a clear and understandable way what they found when they looked into the teaching, worship and history of the Catholic Church with an open mind... and into the life and teaching of Jesus Christ. They answer questions which may linger in your mind in a way which any non-Catholic can easily understand, for they too once stood on the outside and, in some cases, were even antagonistic to everything Catholic.

An interesting pamphlet which you cannot obtain elsewhere... describing the experiences of average people who were originally non-Catholics but are now devoted members of the age-old, world-wide Catholic Church... explaining how and why they became Catholics... how and why the Catholic Faith can aid and enrich your own personal and family life. So much better than to get out the old car and use up gas and rubber; or you go bumping around from one creditor to another in a public conveyance. By the time you get through and count all your cost, you have actually paid more than the small fee per check—the only cost of a Special Checking Account, and have not had the pleasure and prestige of paying off your bills by check, and in the coolness of your home or office.

Fire Damages Trees Near Royersford Line

A large wooded area in the section bounded by New Street, Vaughan road and Third and Fourth avenues on the border of Royersford, was damaged by flames yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock.

Humane and friendship companies Royersford fought the fire about an hour and a half, pumping water through 1000 feet of hose from a plug on Fourth avenue.

Firemen said the fire started in a clump of trees which had been bulldozed to make way for new homes to be built in the area. The cause was attributed to a trash fire nearby, firemen said.

Rail Crossings Put On Agenda for Action On New By-Pass Here

Another step in the realization of a Route 100 by-pass across Route 422 in Pottstown was taken yesterday with the announcement that a public hearing would be held on the subject of railroad crossings Sept. 24 at Norristown.

The announcement came from J. E. Bueh, senior grade crossing engineer of the State Department of Highways.

The department is seeking the approval of the Pennsylvania Public Utility commission for (1) the construction of a crossing where State highway 779 will cross above the grade of the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and (2) the construction of a crossing where the highway crosses above the grade of the tracks of the Reading company.

Route 779 is the State's number for the proposed by-pass.

The tracks and Route 422 would be crossed at West High Street near Sunnybrook drive, the engineer said.

The hearing will be Thursday, Sept. 24, at 10 a. m. in the Norristown courthouse.

PIG ROUND-UP SLATED TUESDAY

4-H Clubs to Select Grand Champion At Auction

The Chester Delaware county 4-H Pig Round-up will be held Tuesday at the Exton Livestock auction, five miles north of West Chester. At 2 p. m. approximately 25 4-H pig club members from the two counties will show their pigs which they have carried as a 4-H project during the past four months. The pigs will be scored on type by an Extension Livestock specialist from Pennsylvania State college.

A grand champion and reserve grand champion will be selected. At 8 p. m., the regular livestock sale will be stepped and the 4-H pigs sold, thus completing the project. An attractive purple rosette will be given to both the 4-H owner and the buyer of the grand champion hogs. Each member will receive a ribbon for his final project score. This is determined by his project management, project records, attendance at meetings and score at round-up.

Much has to be done by the pig club members in preparation for this round-up, which is the biggest county activity of the year for the pig clubs. Not only do they have to carefully feed their animals all summer, but they must do a good job on preparing their pigs for show. Producers Discuss Ways of Getting Milk On Producing Herds To School Children

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28 (P)—Animals and food used in a producing herd or flock "will be taxed" under the Commonwealth's new one percent sales tax which goes into effect Tuesday.

The State Revenue department made the ruling in warning farmers not to feel they are entirely exempt from the new levy.

"Items purchased by a farmer, if they are going to be in use for longer than one year, will be subject to the tax," said Otto F. Messner, State revenue secretary.

Messner said those items included animals and fowl, as well as farm machinery and equipment. If the item can be treated as a matter of expense and made deductible as a necessary business expense for federal income tax purposes, it will be exempt from the sales tax, Messner pointed out.

Ways and means of making the milk more readily available to school children of Chester county was the main topic of discussion at a recent meeting of District 8, Interstate Milk Producers co-operative. The group met at the Coatesville YMCA.

Harvey H. Bickel, president of the district called on Interstate Director Paul Coates who discussed the many problems involved in making milk more readily available to school children, factory workers and other consumers to encourage maximum consumption.

A committee was appointed to meet with the school authorities of the county and secure their co-operation in having milk dispensers placed in the various schools of the county wherever practical.

The committee included Furman H. Gager, Kimberton; chairman; Earl Pennypacker, Pottstown; and J. Edward Stouff, Downingtown.

Fire Damages Trees Near Royersford Line

A large wooded area in the section bounded by New Street, Vaughan road and Third and Fourth avenues on the border of Royersford, was damaged by flames yesterday afternoon shortly before 4 o'clock.

Humane and Friendship companies Royersford fought the fire about an hour and a half, pumping water through 1000 feet of hose from a plug on Fourth avenue.

Firemen said the fire started in a clump of trees which had been bulldozed to make way for new homes to be built in the area. The cause was attributed to a trash fire nearby, firemen said.

Rail Crossings Put On Agenda for Action On New By-Pass Here

Another step in the realization of a Route 100 by-pass across Route 422 in Pottstown was taken yesterday with the announcement that a public hearing would be held on the subject of railroad crossings Sept. 24 at Norristown.

The announcement came from J. E. Bueh, senior grade crossing engineer of the State Department of Highways.

The department is seeking the approval of the Pennsylvania Public Utility commission for (1) the construction of a crossing where State highway 779 will cross above the grade of the tracks of the Pennsylvania Railroad company and (2) the construction of a crossing where the highway crosses above the grade of the tracks of the Reading company.

Route 779 is the State's number for the proposed by-pass.

The tracks and Route 422 would be crossed at West High Street near Sunnybrook drive, the engineer said.

The hearing will be Thursday, Sept. 24, at 10 a. m. in the Norristown courthouse.

PIG ROUND-UP SLATED TUESDAY

4-H Clubs to Select Grand Champion At Auction

The Chester Delaware county 4-H Pig Round-up will be held Tuesday at the Exton Livestock auction, five miles north of West Chester. At 2 p. m. approximately 25 4-H pig club members from the two counties will show their pigs which they have carried as a 4-H project during the past four months. The pigs will be scored on type by an Extension Livestock specialist from Pennsylvania State college.

A grand champion and reserve grand champion will be selected. At 8 p. m., the regular livestock sale will be stepped and the 4-H pigs sold, thus completing the project. An attractive purple rosette will be given to both the 4-H owner and the buyer of the grand champion and reserve grand champion hogs. Each member will receive a ribbon for his final project score. This is determined by his project management, project records, attendance at meetings and score at round-up.

Much has to be done by the pig club members in preparation for this round-up, which is the biggest county activity of the year for the pig clubs. Not only do they have to carefully feed their animals all Summer, but they must do a good job on preparing their pigs for show. Some of the things that have to be done are training the pig; trimming the ears and tail; washing; powdering; and oiling.

The following committee of local leaders and parents of the 4-H pig clubs did much to plan the round-up. They are: Corbin Mendenhall, president of the Exton Livestock Auction association; Mary McEulan and Mrs. J. Roland Pratt of the Brandywine 4-H club; Charles Shreiner of the Twin Valley 4-H club; Fred Bunnell and Harry McGuirk of the Glen Mills 4-H club. Other 4-H pig clubs that will have members at the round-up are the Brownback 4-H club and the Oxford 4-H Agriculture club.

Producers Discuss Tax Ruling Made Ways of Getting Milk On Producing Herds To School Children

HARRISBURG, Aug. 28 (P)—Animals and food used in a producing herd or flock "will be taxed" under the Commonwealth's new one percent sales tax which goes into effect Tuesday.

The State Revenue department made the ruling in warning farmers not to feel they are entirely exempt from the new levy.

"Items purchased by a farmer, if they are going to be in use for longer than one year, will be subject to the tax," said Otto F. Messner, State revenue secretary.

Messner said those items included animals and fowl, as well as farm machinery and equipment. If the item can be treated as a matter of expense and made deductible as a necessary business expense for federal income tax purposes, it will be exempt from the sales tax, Messner pointed out.

A committee was appointed to meet with the school authorities of the county and secure their co-operation in having milk dispensers placed in the various schools of the county wherever practical.

The committee included Furman H. Gager, Kimberton; chairman; Earl Pennypacker, Pottstown; and J. Edward Stouff, Downingtown.

Fair Farm Prices Aids Non-Farmers

A reasonable farm price stabilizer with a fair level of income is not only important to agriculture but to the entire national economy, John H. Davis, director of Commodity Marketing and Adjustment and president of the Commodity Credit corporation of USDA, recently told the 34th annual convention of the National Association of Retail Grocers at Chicago.

"When farmers have money they help to provide a market for products and services of more farmers. This in turn helps maintain employment and payrolls in towns and cities and makes it possible for these urban people to be good customers for products produced by farmers."

He pointed out that agriculture, unlike most other types of business has no automatic regulator between production and distribution.

Madonna Lilies Should Be Planted In Soil That Has Good Drainage

LILUM CANDIDUM, or the Madonna lily, should be growing in many more gardens than it is. It is easy to grow but its habits should be understood. It succeeds in shallow soil or location, ample winter protection during even in a heavy clay soil if there the first year. A straw mulch, is good drainage. However, it is placed after the soil surface is does not like a soil that is dis-frozen makes a good covering tinely acid in reaction.

As the Madonna lily bulbs are never completely at rest, their stay out of the soil should be made as short as possible. The bulbs will deteriorate every day they are out of the ground, especially if allowed to become dry. Be prepared to plant them as soon as received from garden shop or nursery.

By planting them now, the lilies will have time to form a rosette of leaves before winter. Such a rosette is shown in the accompanying Garden-Graph.

The basal leaves which form the rosette are very important to the plant. Take care not to injure them in any way, especially when cultivating near them. They remain on the plant all winter.

Madonna lily bulbs should be planted in a handful of sharp sand. Cover the top of the bulb with about two inches of soil.

Plant a tall stake near each bulb as it is planted. When the flower stalk has grown it can be tied to the stake already in place. This avoids danger of injuring the roots.

Since Madonna lilies require shallow planting they also need in almost any soil or location, ample winter protection during even in a heavy clay soil if there the first year. A straw mulch, is good drainage. However, it is placed after the soil surface is does not like a soil that is dis-frozen makes a good covering tinely acid in reaction.

Crop Drying Equipment Loan Program Extended

A one-year extension of the crop drying equipment loan program was announced the past month by the US Agriculture department. The program, begun in 1949, was extended to June 30, 1954, and covers the purchase of the equipment for the conditioning of storable crops.

This includes mechanical dryers, air circulators, ventilators, tunnels the plant. Take care not to injure them in any way, especially when cultivating near them. They remain on the plant all winter.

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

CHAPPAQUA, N. Y., Aug. 28.—One of the great mysteries of human nature as far as I'm concerned, is the average person's reluctance to undertake any research. Maybe the word is forbidding.

Just the other day, a friend made a toll telephone call to me to ask what she should do about her tulips now and she made it sound like a great big, three alarm emergency. What fascinated me about the thing was that way back last March we had a cozy three hour garden talk during which I provided her, a beginning gardener with a list of "must" purchases starting with the hoe and ending up with the solid base of a garden library. And I know she went out and faithfully bought everything on the list.

But, instead of going to the shelf and taking down her garden encyclopedia and flipping to T for tulip, or referring to her garden guide's chapter on bulb culture, she calls up a friend for the advisory word. And my word was to look it up herself; she'd remember it longer if it took a little effort and concentration.

Now in lawn building time, our neighborhood on weekends is full of small discussion groups on the subject of grass and grass culture, and the fellow who made the most recent lawn is the loudest authority. I believe firmly that the best gardens, the most handsome lawns, the finest trees are grown by the people who take the time and trouble to consult the experts—the nurserymen, the horticulturists, the seedmen.

I'VE ANOTHER gripe within the garden world, too. That is the way that so many places which provide garden supplies — hard ware stores, supermarkets (seed packets) and such — assume that Spring is the only selling season. The seed stores, nurseries and special garden supply places, of course, don't do this, but in my case it's a 15-mile drive to the nearest garden supply place. About a month ago I wanted some aquilegia, hollyhock and pink forget-me-not seed to start for bloom next year. All they had were some left-over parsnip and beet seeds. But they were sure pushing fall grass-sowing. So I'm in favor of a little education program for the handy middle men in the gardening game.

While concentrating on lawn repairs and enjoying the tomato harvest, I'm also preparing the houseplants for a period of long confinement indoors. Everything, including the philodendron, has had a wonderful, carefree summer spreading roots in the good earth, ungrilled by pots. Now it's time to put back their ceramic corsets and get them accustomed to new conditions.

I dig the plants carefully and pot them up in containers of the proper size, and in a carefully prepared soil mixture: two parts good fine screened garden soil, one part compost and lightened by some clean sand. Usually I add some peat moss, particularly on top to conserve moisture.

Time is Money!

The time you put into your farming is money. Like time, this money has a way of "flying" fast. You can't make time stand still. But you can make some of your money stand still in a savings account. PLANT SMALL TREES

Forest-sized trees are fine for forests and large estates, but around modern houses set on modest-sized plots, trees and shrubs of smaller adult size are a better long term investment.

Q. Can I worm my birds individually at 15 weeks of age?

A. Yes, of course. And I recommend Dr. Salsbury's Wormal Tablets, the new form of Wormal that removes large roundworms, cecal worms, tapeworms, and intestinal capillary worms. Wormal tablets are safe for birds from about 10 weeks up. Use them for laying birds, too. When you plant to worm birds individually, choose Wormal Tablets. Genus Rallitrim.

Spring Mount Tops Gabelsville, 4-3, To Knot Suburban League Finals

Richie Nester banged out a triple and a homer for Gabelsville last night, but the Owls couldn't overcome Spring Mount, who pined out four runs in the first inning to tie the Suburban league playoffs by a 4-3 count.

Spring Mount opened the game with a big way when Merrill Alderfer singled. Walt Maute took a base on balls, and Landis sacrificed to the outfield. Nester walked, and Nester advanced both runners. Ken Nace was intentionally walked, loading the bases.

Birmingham Wins '53 Little League World Series, 1-0

WILLIAMSPORT, Aug. 28 (AP)—Birmingham, Ala., today won the 1953 Little League Baseball World Series championship as bubblegum-chewing Joey Sims shut out Schenectady, N. Y., 1-0 on two hits.

Center fielder Dick De Roberts batted in the only run of the game in the opening inning. He singled home third baseman Bruce Gordon. Sims, who blew large bubbles from a wad of gum every time he became nervous, allowed two singles, struck out six batters and for the second straight game walked no one.

Losing pitcher, Steve Buchheim, a lean, lanky left hander, struck out ten boys in the four innings he pitched to be tagged with the loss.

BUCHHEIM was lifted after the fourth inning because he had pitched eight innings in Schenectady's opening round 2-2 victory over North Newton, Mass.

Little League rules for the boys between 8 and 12 years specify that a pitcher can hurl only 12 innings in a single week.

A crowd of 8,500 fans jammed the original Little League stadium where the fast-growing youth movement originated 14 years ago.

In the consolation game, Front Royal, Va., blanked Camp Hill, 3-0 on the one hit hurling of Maxie Cameron. The victory gave the Virginians third place in the tournament of eight regional champions.

ONLY Schenectady players to get past second base was right fielder Jim Barbieri, who was thrown out at third in the opening inning. Barbieri, second man to face Sims, had beaten out a bunt and had taken second on a bad throw and was trying for third when he was caught.

The Birmingham team, which popped out of its dugout and stood at attention each time the band struck up the tune "Dixie," was carried off the field on the shoulders of a number of other Alabama fans who followed the team to this Central Pennsylvania city.

UP AND OVER—It's a force-out at second and Johnny Logan, the Braves' shortstop, has to leap over Del Ennis of Phils to whip the ball to first for a double-play during game in Quaker City.

The Workers got the hits, but the Shamrocks got the runs last night, as a fighting Rock club tied the Junior league playoff series by downing USWA 2-2, 4-3.

Al Laws got the Shamrocks off on the right foot when he tagged the first pitch for a base hit. Jim Hallman bunted safely down the first baseline, and then stole second.

Bob Sandoe grounded out, scoring Laws and sending Hallman to third. Al Gwoza took a base on balls. Tom Rhoades fired out to Dick Groff, and Hallman tagged up and scored. Bill Brown flied out to center field to end the inning.

Both teams were scoreless in the fourth inning, when the Shamrocks repeated with another two-run performance.

GNOZA walked and Rhoades doubled him to third. Brown hit another fly to Groff, but Gwoza didn't make his scoring attempt until John Arum grounded, who had a double for the Rocks. To Tom Drauschak, Drauschak threw to the plate to get Gnoza, but the Shamrock catcher was safe when the ball got away from Paul Rhoades. Workers' backstop Rhoades also came in on the error.

That ended the Shamrock scoring for the night, but it was enough, as the Workers were only able to muster two runs in the fifth and one in the seventh.

The Workers started to rally in the fifth, after having been blanked all the way, when Groff took a base on balls, and Tom Oroszki, who had three for three, doubled, sending Groff to third.

After Len Bittner fanned, Jack Kelley tripped Groff and Oroszki across the plate. Dick Hurter grounded to Sandoe who pegged home to get Kelley. Drauschak hit into short center, but was robbed of a safety when Brown snagged the ball with a backhand catch.

IN THE seventh inning with one away, USWA tried unsuccessfully to continue its rally.

Oroszki hit his second triple of the night into left center field, and Ken Tinney fouled out to Sandoe, making it two down. Kelley doubled, bringing Oroszki in, and Hurter hit a hot liner to Jim Hallman for the final out of the game.

The two teams will meet in the big one on Monday at Franklin field. Starting time is 5:45 o'clock and this game will decide the Junior league champion.

Cubs Beaten, 5-0 Simmons Hurls 4-Hit Shutout

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 28.—Curt Simmons threw a 4-hit shutout as the Philadelphia Phillies nipped the Chicago Cubs 5-0, tonight. Simmons cracked two singles to drive in a pair of runs, enough to give Simmons his 12th win of the campaign.

Four singles were all the Cubs could collect from Simmons as he put on one of his best performances since suffering a foot injury in a mowing accident at his home in June. The Cubs couldn't get anyone past second base and never threatened seriously to score.

Ashburn, in a hitting streak he hopes will carry him to the National League batting title, drove home the first Phillies run in the third after Teddy Kazanski doubled.

Willie Jones hit his 17th home run to open the seventh. Simmons followed with a single and after Kazanski sacrificed, Ashburn sent Curt home with his second single.

The Phils picked up two more in the eighth on Hammer's single and doubles by Johnny Wyrostek and Jones.

THREE TIMES—For the third straight year, Doris Hart of Coral Gables, Fla., and Shirley Fry of Akron, Ohio, rule as the US National doubles tennis champs and thus permanently retire the big trophy that goes with it. The two trimmed Louise Brough and Mrs. Margaret Osborne duPont at Chestnut Hill, Mass., in the finals. Miss Hart (left) and Miss Fry receive personal trophies from Mrs. Hazel Wightman (right) after the matches.

Pee Wee Hits Two

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—Pee Wee Reese smashed a pair of home runs and Carl Furillo fouled off seven straight pitches. Roy Campanella hit one each as the Brooklyn Dodgers outslug the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-8 tonight.

The Dodgers' homers accounted for eight of their nine runs. Trailing 9-7 the Reds fought back in the ninth for one on Grady Hatton's pinch hit double and a double.

Brooklyn Outslugs Cincinnati, 9-8; Reese, Furillo, Campanella Connect

BROOKLYN, Aug. 28.—Pee Wee Reese smashed a pair of home runs and Carl Furillo fouled off seven straight pitches. Roy Campanella hit one each as the Brooklyn Dodgers outslug the Cincinnati Redlegs 9-8 tonight.

The Dodgers' homers accounted for eight of their nine runs. Trailing 9-7 the Reds fought back in the ninth for one on Grady Hatton's pinch hit double and a double.

Vernon's Home Run, Two Singles Give Senators 7-4 Win

DETROIT, Aug. 28.—Mickey Vernon, the American League's top hitter, pushed his average to .329 tonight with two singles and a home run in leading the Washington Senators to a 7-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

WASHINGTON, Aug. 28.—Mickey Vernon, the American League's top hitter, pushed his average to .329 tonight with two singles and a home run in leading the Washington Senators to a 7-4 victory over the Detroit Tigers.

Red Sox Beat Chicago; Slide Causes Near-Riot

CHICAGO, Aug. 28.—The Boston Red Sox scored one of their rare victories over the Chicago White Sox tonight, winning 4-3 as Jim Piersall touched off most of the fireworks with a tie-breaking seventh inning triple and a third-inning slide that led to a near riot of players.

Left-hander Bill Henry allowed only six hits in pitching the Red Sox to their fifth triumph in 18 games with Chicago this season. Piersall's triple followed a walk to catcher Sam White. The blow broke a 2-2 tie.

Piersall socked it to the tune of 32.199 kept hurling at him after a third-inning incident at second base.

Piersall reached first on a walk and streaked toward second when slugger Ted Williams tapped to the mound. The youthful Boston rightfielder banged into White Sox shortstop Chico Carrasquel at the bag, successfully breaking up a doubleplay, and the two of them came up swinging.

The benches of both teams streamed onto the field ready for battle and Gus Niarhos, Red Sox catcher, and Nelson Fox, Chicago second baseman, got in a separate tangle.

A crowd of 11,000 watched. Nick Fitzgerald, lanky left-handed pitcher from Narberth, was named the most valuable player in the contest.

Thirty-eight major league scouts participated in the voting in which Fitzgerald won the award by a scant margin over the fans' favorite shortstop Tommy Morgan, Valley View, also on the East team.

Tom Kirkpatrick, Beaver Falls, a pitcher for the West, and outfielder Stewart Gehrns from Reading, another Eastern player, finished in a deadlock for third place in the voting.

East Team Wins All-Star Contest

Thirty-eight major league scouts participated in the voting in which Fitzgerald won the award by a scant margin over the fans' favorite shortstop Tommy Morgan, Valley View, also on the East team.

Dick Kryhoski Paces Browns to Win, 8-3, Sweeping A's Series

ST. LOUIS, Aug. 28.—Dick Kryhoski banged out a double, triple and home run tonight to drive in four runs as he paced the St. Louis Browns to an 8-3 victory over the Philadelphia Athletics for a sweep of their three-game series.

The Browns were leading 4-3 moving into the home half of the eighth when they exploded for four runs off reliever Morris Martin. Kryhoski's 2-run triple was the big blow of the inning.

Brownie starter Duane Pillette received credit for the victory, his fifth against 10 defeats, although he needed help from Marlin Stuart.

Big Gus Zernial blasted his 35th homer of the year for the A's in the first inning with one man on base. The other Philadelphia run came in the seventh on a double by Ray Murray, a walk, sacrifice and an infield out.

Kryhoski hit his 14th home run of the season in the first round for the Browns and then belted a double in the third to score Bill Hunter who also doubled.

The Browns scored one more run in the fifth on a walk to Don Lehardt and a triple by Vic Wertz. Charlie Bishop, who started for the A's, was charged with the defeat, giving him a record of three wins and 12 losses.

Polly Riley to Meet Mary Faulk in Finals

PROVIDENCE, R. I., Aug. 28.—A pair of golfing bookkeepers who specialize in balancing par, Polly Riley of Fort Worth, Tex., and Mary Lena Faulk of Thomasville, Ga., will play tomorrow in the 36-hole final for the National Women's Amateur golf championship.

These 27-year-old tournament-tested veterans, each in the finals for the first time, had to stage strong rallies to turn back a duo of giant-killers today at the Rhode Island Country Club.

Miss Riley, stocky Curtis Copper who holds the Southern crown, was carried 19 holes before she could dispose of Mrs. Philip Cudone, 34-year-old housewife from Montclair, N. J.

Miss Faulk, who before today had gone 28 holes without losing a single one, resurged after being three down through the fifth to eliminate Margaret (Wiffi) Smith, Mexican's stoical 16-year-old, 3 and 2.

German Club to Face Linfield Today

An exhibition game today at 5 p. m. will see the Pottstown German club face the Linfield Optimists at Memorial park no. 2.

The Junior league teams have met three times with Linfield walking off with the honors twice.

Wild Animals to Prowl Here Monday In Beers-Barnes Circus Performance

Wild animals will be on the prowl in the Boyertown area next week. But there's no need to barricade the doors and fasten the window latches. The circus is coming.

The Beers-Barnes trained wild animal circus, bringing 40 trained animals, including elephants, lions, and seals from their winter quarters at Crandon park zoo, Miami, Fla., will perform at the Gabelsville ball park, one mile west of Boyertown, Monday only, at 2 and 8 p. m. it was announced by Gene Christian.

"The circus," explained Christian, "is an old-fashioned one with acrobats, wirewalkers, jugglers and acrobats, as well as the largest group of performing animals offered by any circus this year playing towns of less than 5000 population."

"We have no midway concessions, skill games and typical carnival attractions. It's all circus big top performance, menagerie and refreshment concessions only," Christian concluded.

The circus, making its 22d annual tour and second visit to New England, is said to be the third oldest in America from the standpoint of operation under original title and management.

Most of its animals are on exhibit at Crandon park zoo in Miami during the winter months. Among the big acts of the circus is 23-year-old David C. Hoover and his jungle-bred lions who appear together in a steel arena.

Captain Willis and his educated seals, with "Pasty," Miami's famous bicycle-riding chimpanzee, is another featured act.

For grace and beauty on the taunt steel wire, Christian says, there is no equal to the Lois Troupe of all-girl wirewalkers. Then there is also Happy Holmes.

More Boyertown News On Page 14

It is estimated that when white men first came to the United States there were about eight trillion feet of timber in the forests of the country.

For grace and beauty on the taunt steel wire, Christian says, there is no equal to the Lois Troupe of all-girl wirewalkers. Then there is also Happy Holmes.

Tobacco Crops Grown In New England States
HARTFORD, Conn., Aug. 28 (U.P.)—Tobacco growing, often regarded as a southern occupation, also has its place in New England. In 62 square miles on Connecticut and Massachusetts farms there are now growing crops of tobacco which are estimated at a potential value of $64,000,000.

A new laboratory for the study of tobacco culture has now been established here by Dr. Elmer Lee Peterson, a graduate of Iowa State college who received his Ph. D. in plant physiology at Yale university in 1951.
